

Third Annual Horse Show Tomorrow at New Dairy Barn

Outing Club and Animal Husbandry Department Are Sponsors

The university Outing Club and the Animal Husbandry department will conduct the third annual horse show tomorrow afternoon at one o'clock in front of the new dairy barns. Many prominent stables from New Hampshire and nearby Maine and Massachusetts towns are entering horses which have carried off honors in larger shows and received awards in previous University shows.

The show was first made a success by the untiring efforts of Ruth Libby and Loring V. Tirrell and the work is being carried on this year by a committee headed by Jane Woodbury. Ed Haseltine will again act as ringmaster and Alvin Parker, president of the Outing club will present the trophies and ribbons.

The following stables have entered: Doctor W. L. Orcutt of West Newbury; Dorothy Holden of Portsmouth; Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Morrison of Epso; Richard Smith of Salisbury; M. & M. Bakeries of Dover, and others. A Belgian stallion and a Percheron will be exhibited as a feature. An added attraction will be a calf-roping exhibition by the Diamond Slash and Stock farm.

Other members assisting are: tickets, Joe Miller; patrons, Hulda Boerker and Comfort Bullock; publicity, Ed Wyman; trophies and ribbons, Dorothy McLeod.

Tickets are on sale at the Wildcat and Gorman's. Students may get them for twenty-five cents. The regular price is fifty cents. There will be a special gate for Outing club members. A large parking space, bleachers and standing room will provide ample space for horse enthusiasts and other spectators.

Sphinx Plans New Reorganization

Elects New Officer to Replace Vice President

Plans for re-organization and enlargement of the scope of activities for this year of Sphinx, honorary junior society, were drawn up at the first meeting of the year in the Commons Trophy room on Monday evening. Don Twyon, president, presided over the meeting, at which six were present. Since Al Lewis, vice-president, failed to return to college this fall, a new election for the office was found necessary. Jack Dane, Theta Chi representative, secured the majority of votes.

Officers for this year are Don Twyon, president; Jack Dane, vice-president; Bob Smart, secretary; Ed Mattice, treasurer. The second meeting will take place some time next week. A definite date has not been set.

Fairchild Elections

A house meeting was held in the lounge at Fairchild hall last Thursday night, at which the following dormitory officers were elected: President, Robert Tilton; Vice-president, John Caulfield; Secretary, Raymond Patten; and Treasurer, Bernarr Freeman. It is significant that three of the four officers elected reside on the third floor.

Rev. Fred S. Buschmeyer will have as a sermon topic next Sunday at the Community Church "Far Horizons." The church service begins at 10:45.

Kalijarvi Speaks on European Situations

The first meeting of a series dealing with world affairs was held last Thursday evening in Ballard Hall under the auspices of Christian Work. Professor Thorsten Kalijarvi, speaker of the evening, discussed "War or Peace," giving an unbiased opinion on world problems. He attempted to give the Italian justifications for the Italo-Ethiopian conflict, while making it clear that he was not defending Italy in her aggressiveness. Export of arms and ammunition from neutral nations and its subsequent effects were also discussed.

Professor Kalijarvi told of the situation in German universities as he found it. He declared that under the control of Hitler the standards of education were on the whole equal to those of any other nation.

Varsity at Maine for Annual Game with Old Rivals

Team Is In Good Condition and Another Victory Is Expected

New Hampshire, undefeated by its traditional rival, the University of Maine, for the last six years, will again face the Pine Tree Staters at Orono on Saturday. Although the team was badly battered by Yale, there were no serious injuries and they held the powerful Yale team to a 34 to 0 score, while Maine lost to Holy Cross 47 to 0.

On the basis of records, the Wildcats would seem to have a slight edge over Maine. New Hampshire has a slight advantage in weight. Both backfields average 168 pounds, but the Wildcat frontier averages 183, eight pounds more than the Maine men.

Last year New Hampshire defeated Maine by a 24-7 score. In 1933 the score was 6-0; in '32, 7-7; in '31, 13-7; in '30, 14-6; and '29, 21-7. The first of this succession of victories was in 1928 with a 7-0 verdict.

New Hampshire's lineup will probably be the same as it was last week with Twyon and Rogean at the end positions, Johnson and Kierstead at tackle, Lelesky and Lang at guard and Bishop in the center. In the backfield, Joslin will probably start at quarterback. Giarla and Pederzani or Mirey will be the starting halfbacks, with Mitchener in as fullback.

Doherty and Karpowich will be the starting ends for Maine. At left tackle will be Sidelinger with Frame as his running mate. Jackson will hold down the left guard berth and Collette will be in a similar position on the other side of the line. Proctor will be the starting center. In the backfield, Dow will call the signals in the quarterback position. Rogers and Higgins will probably handle the half-back spots, while Littlehale will be safety end.

First Guild Meeting Planned for Thursday

The first meeting of the Woman's Guild of the Community Church will be guest day at the parish house on Thursday afternoon, October 17. Mrs. Ernest Hall who with her husband spent twenty-years in Doshisha University in Japan will speak on "An Interpretation of the Japanese Tea Ceremony." The program chairmen are Mrs. G. R. Johnson and Mrs. Lawrence Slanetz. The tea hostesses are the Calling Committee of which Mrs. A. E. Richards is chairman.

The Guild is planning the Annual Harvest Supper which has become a tradition in Durham and will be given on October 24.

Casque and Casket Issues Warning on '35 Rushing Rules

Board Member to Police Freshman Dorms During Fall

Guy Pederzani, president of Casque and Casket, intra-fraternity governing board, in a statement to The New Hampshire today, warned all freshmen and upperclassmen to strictly observe all rushing rules.

"In an effort to stem the tide of illegal rushing, prevalent on the campus in years past, Casque and Casket issues the following warning to upperclassmen and freshmen:

"The official rushing season does not open until the first day of Winter term. Any upperclassman who enters into conversation with a freshman before that date, is violating a rule of Casque and Casket's code of fair rushing, and his fraternity will be liable to penalties imposed by that organization.

"Policing of freshman dormitories by groups of Casque and Casket members will start immediately, and violators of any rushing rule will be dealt with severely. It is the intention of the present Casque and Casket group to make an example of the first and every fraternity adjudged guilty of rushing violations by the court provided for such judgment.

"Casque and Casket requests the co-operation of freshmen in dealing with such illegal rushing. The 'mysteries' of fraternity life will be bared to the freshmen at the proper time, and until that time it will be to the advantage of every freshman to maintain an open mind as to the fraternity which he thinks is most suitable for him."

Guy A. Pederzani.

Mayor to Preside over Stunt Night

Candidates Silent About Plans --- Preparations Kept Secret

Blue Key, upon looking over its list of distinguished candidates and indulging in some hearty laughing, was struck this week with a noble and unselfish resolve. For the first time in history, the successful candidate will preside as master of ceremonies at University Stunt Night, and give the student body a chance to join in the laugh.

The candidates have been rather silent in regards to their respective platforms but have been getting their tools ready and some strange noises have been heard issuing from cellars about campus so it is expected that it will not be long now.

The rumors have become so insistent that the Manchester Union and Mayor Damase Caron are backing Dick Galway, that these reports have made him a slight favorite. Lloyds of London are offering 7-9 odds on him. It has also been reported that during the past week Congreve has come out strongly in the favor of our "Smiling Dick."

Roberts, "the Farmer's Choice," has been seen smoking a corn cob and dressed in overalls in an attempt to swing the "hay shakers" to his support. His popularity has been increasing steadily and his opponents are getting worried.

"Hopping" Hooper in his jumps to Dover has secured a large following in and about the Strand Theatre. He is the "fireworks" candidate and claims that he will go over with a bang and before the campaign is over there will be some display.

First Meeting of Folio Club Held

The first meeting of Folio Club was held at Professor Towle's home on Tuesday evening with ten members present. Plans for the coming year were discussed, and the members reported on their summer reading. The first two issues of "The Yankee," a new literary magazine published at Marlboro, were examined carefully.

The Folio is an informal club composed of students interested in problems of contemporary life and literature. Membership is by invitation.

Dancause Resigns as Granite Editor

Richard Messer Fills Post as Yearbook Chief

Lucien Dancause resigned as editor-in-chief of the 1937 Granite at a meeting held in the Granite office in Ballard Hall last Tuesday evening. Richard Messer, chosen last year as business manager, was elected to take over the office of editor-in-chief.

Edson Mattice, former advertising manager, was elected to the office of business manager. Two new men were given offices: John Dane, Advertising Manager, and Leo Scannell, sports editor.

Announcement has been made that the Granite office will be open every day except Saturday from 4 to 5 P.M.

Poetry Club to Join College Poetry Society

At the first meeting held last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Denver E. Baughan, the members of the Poetry Club unanimously voted to join the College Poetry Society of America. This will make it possible for the club to publish its poetry through the medium of "College Verse," the official organ of the Society, which offers substantial prizes for the best undergraduate verse of the year.

Other business of the evening consisted of criticisms of verse written by active and prospective members, and of plans for the present year. The following active members showed that their summers brought forth something besides the usual sunburns and lethargy: Ralph Mott, who has just returned after a year in Cuba; Alexander Karanikas; Patricia Pert; Roy Lovely; and Margaret Paige.

The next meeting will be held a week from this Thursday. In the meantime the club hopes to announce the list of new members for the academic year.

Notice

There will be a meeting of Student Council Monday night at eight o'clock in Ballard Hall.

Military Ball Set for Nov. 22 --- Committees Elected

Arline Brazel, Elizabeth Corbett, Doris Fowler, and Marian Rowe, were nominated for honorary cadet colonel at a meeting of Scabbard and Blade held last Wednesday night. Later one of the girls will be elected to this honorary position by the vote of advanced Military Science students.

Plans for the annual ball were completed, the date being set for November 22. Those elected for the dance committee are Samuel Page, chairman, Harold Haller and Paul Travers; refreshments, Charles Joslin; Jere Chase, program; decoration committee, Edward Rogers, chairman, Leon Ranchynoski, Everett Munson and George Horton.

Scabbard and Blade Day is scheduled for October 28 in memory of Theodore "Teddy" Roosevelt, also tentative plans are being arranged for the celebration of Armistice by the entire R.O.T.C. unit.

Elizabeth Scudder to Wed F. Robinson

James Scudder and Mescal Robinson to Attend Pair in Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Scudder of Durham wish to announce the marriage of their daughter Elizabeth to Francis E. Robinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl P. Robinson, of Durham, which will take place at the home of the bride's parents on Madbury Road on Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Rev. Fred S. Buschmeyer of Durham will officiate.

The bride's brother, James H. H. Scudder, who is a member of the sophomore class at the University will act as best man. The bridegroom's sister, Miss Mescal Robinson, of Durham, will act as bridesmaid.

The bridegroom who graduated from the University in 1931 is the secretary of the New Hampshire Farm Bureau. His office is in Concord. His father is County Agent Leader of the State Extension service. Miss Scudder graduated from the University in 1935. Her father is a professor of English at the University.

There will be a reception at the home of the bride's parents after the ceremony. The couple will live in Hopkinton.

New Books

New books recently added to the library are: "Poor John Fitch," by Thomas Boyd; "Stars Look Down," by Archibald J. Cronin; "Understanding Yourself," by Ernest P. Groves; "Romance of Mountaineering," by Robert L. Irving; "Stumbling into Socialism," by David Lawrence; "Singing in the Wilderness," by Donald C. Peattie; "Time: the Present," by Tess Slesinger.

COURTESY

With the discarding of so many of the useless customs of the past which has come in recent years there has also been a resulting ignorance concerning the forms of courtesy which should never be lost to a civilized people.

Undeniably, a knowledge of the forms of courtesy lends poise and assurance to anyone who would indulge in social intercourse. Without the good and the fundamental among these forms, a man marks himself as ignorant and a boor. It seems that no one would wittingly choose such a course so some method should be taken to overcome ignorance.

A myriad of examples of lack of courtesy can be seen every day on campus. Perhaps two of the outstanding ones are those to be observed among the students who come to watch the ceremonies of retreat and parade of the R.O.T.C. on Wednesday afternoon.

In this instance they are not merely spectators but by their very presence must participate in two parts of the ceremony—rising for the national anthem and for the colors as they pass. This constitutes a tribute not to either of the two as physical forms, but to the unity of a nation which they symbolize.

If a person chooses to ignore these courtesies he should not be present; if he remains seated because he knows no better one can only wonder at the extent of the ignorance involved.

Of course the military department would be justified in excluding everyone from observation of this ceremony if a number of those present persist in their discourtesy. It is a far better idea, though, that those who know better should, by their example and insistence, lead the way for the few ignorant ones among them.

"The Old Familiar Hogwash"

I should like to add my protest to those of other students concerning the programs scheduled for the convocations and evening entertainments and talks. It seems to me that the students' openly expressed desires for an entirely different program have been flagrantly scorned by the faculty committee on programs. The above mentioned program may be entirely satisfactory for the Colonial Daughters or the Bridge Club, but for satisfying the needs and answering the questions of 1935 college students it is about as informative as the 1835 Old Farmer's Almanac.

In no modern nation do supposedly educated college students show less interest in the vital economic, political, and social problems than in these United States. With a national election in the offing and the old, familiar hogwash already being thrown about profusely, is it too much to ask for some sort of balanced, constructive convocation program for those among the student body who really would like to know where we are going and why?

"How About It, Fraternities?"

At their meeting held Tuesday evening, Oct. 8, the Acturians expressed disappointment concerning the convocation program for this term. Perhaps last year's program did stress too heavily politics and economics, but this fall's schedule threatens to be over-balanced in the opposite direction. Living in a world in which economic and political questions of vast importance are consistently raised, we consider it a necessity for the student body to have at least a vague idea of these questions and their consequences. Therefore, the Acturians are giving their support to the Student Program Committee in its efforts to secure for the student body an adequate public program that will help to give the students on this campus not only a cultural, but also a broad political and economic insight.

THE ACTURIANS.

"Pity the Freshman"

As I read the published convocation program for this year, I could only regret that this year's freshmen are not to be allowed the opportunity which we had to listen to and question well-known speakers on economic and political affairs.

Various speakers presented totally different view points—presented them with interest and clarity. Because we did hear new ideas did not necessarily mean that we students changed chamleon-like from one to another, but as a result of last year's series of lectures some of us gained a more rational understanding, a clearer insight into the complexities of today's political and economic problems.

Of course the T.V.A. film which was presented tonight was important in the light of a sociological and economic department; but how can we fully understand the implication of this project from its context—the economic and political problems of modern society? And how in the world can the rest of our program give us any real, vital, practical insight into present trends. We do not underestimate the cultural and artistic but we do not believe these to be of supreme importance today.

"The Writers Will Write"

The members of the Folio Club wish to add their protests to the flood of similar sentiment against the utter disregard of the students' desires as exemplified by this term's program of public forums.

Practically the whole evening of the first meeting was taken up by the discussion of this problem, so vital to students sensitive to this modern, fear-ridden society. Being, we sincerely hope, potential future writers, we must be acutely aware of the economic and social trends of our day. Unfortunately, we are not intensely interested in "the good old by-gone days"—dreaming sentimentally like aged grandmothers beside the warm hearth, while outside the flood of world troubles threatens to sweep us away. Why are the students given the cold shoulder, even when they make their sincere desires so plain?

The members of this organization are unanimous in suggesting that the efforts of the Student Committee for Public Forums be given immediate consideration, that the convocation program for the winter and spring terms be nearer the desires of the student body.

THE FOLIO CLUB.

"More Contradictions"

Students on the campus who were aware of the progress that U.N.H. made in its convocation program last year, begin to wonder about the continuance of this apparent progressive policy. When one examines the convocation program set up for the Fall Term, he sees in that program a definite retrogressive move.

If we students are "to spend our years in college in coping with the social and economic problems of our times in order that we as future citizens may take up the burden," why is important time and valuable money being spent on speakers who, with the exception of one or two, "simply fill up time?"

It was hoped that the program committee would continue its program of well informed, intelligent, and timely speakers, but it is feared that such is not so. Are we as students to continue as merely "suggestive organs" or can we help in a constructive way to gain a more appropriate convocation program?

FOILED AGAIN

Being an inordinately, melancholy person for the greater part of my waking moments, it very frequently gives me an extreme amount of pleasure to reckon up the hours and money which I have wasted on movies that, to put it mildly, were not all they were cracked up to be. Sometimes my pleasure becomes so acute that I feel like ending it all, but always there is the disturbing realization that somewhere, in all of these pictures, is some brief little flicker of intelligence or imagination, and I get up and turn off the gas.

For instance, "Anna Karenina." Garbo was splendid, better than I had ever seen her before, but the story was so inartistically mutilated, and Frederic March so like a little child paddling around in a grown man's rubber boots, that I felt the millennium had come.

And then Garbo was alone on the railroad station platform, the dim light obscured by clouds of steam from the engine ready to pull out. Bells clanged, the engine puffed, the monotone played by the orchestra whirled up to a dizzy speed. Her face showed through a rift in the steam was immediately obscured, and as the engine started up, through the ear-filling crescendo of the orchestra a woman's scream cut through. Anna had solved her problem.

A few minutes followed that added the cold water with which Hollywood always feels constrained to douse her moments of genuine emotion, but then it was too late. Or am I too optimistic in hoping to see some day, the perfectly lousy picture?

When a letter was refused Jim Tolbert, husky University of Texas line-man, because he swung at an official after a game, he was presented with a mounted trophy by his teammates.

The War in Review

To Have or Not To Have a Labor Party

* * * * *

Farewell Academic Freedom

The war situation remains the most consuming feature of the news. To date the fascist offensive continues into Ethiopia after the Italian victory at Adowa. Haile Selassie's troops are on the march to the north to meet the aggressors and the word from Addis Ababa is that no major battles have yet been engaged. The Italian press gives reassurance that no retreat on Mussolini's part is possible because of certain economic disaster. Great Britain continues to be the chief exponent of economic sanctions against Italy and has with the rest of the League declared Italy entirely responsible for breaking the Covenant. France is torn between the Conservative and Fascist elements who advocate going easy with sanctions and labor groups who are in accord with labor the world over in their stand for drastic action against Italian Imperialism.

One of the most interesting features of the situation arises in America. Early this week President Roosevelt imposed an arms embargo against both belligerents and warned Americans against travelling on belligerent ships or dealing with them except at their own risks. His proclamation was in keeping with the stand taken by Congress on American neutrality. On Oct. 8th at a luncheon meeting of the Export Managers Club of New York the decision was reached that "orders placed here by Italian or Ethiopian buyers will be accepted by exporters in spite of President Roosevelt's neutrality proclamation." A New York Times editorial comments on the monetary loss to private business and upon their reappraisal of American neutrality as follows: "It thus appears that we are paying a big price for neutrality which we are determined to have."

On Oct. 7th, William Greene, President of the A.F.L., addressing the annual convention of the federation at Atlantic City denounced "independent political action" on the part of labor as having been ordered from Moscow. The following day a resolution was placed on the floor by Francis Gorman vice-president of the United Textile Workers Union, for a broad Labor Party having a platform based on the immediate economic demands of the working class and opposed to "armed intervention" by the state in times of strikes and to "the growing menace of fascism as manifested in the American Liberty League and the subsidized press, and against the imminent danger of world war." Such contradictions even within such an organization as the A.F. of L., is but another indication of our chaotic times.

The American Legion, the D.A.R., the American Federation of Labor officials, General Hugh S. Johnson and the Hearst press have at last joined hands in stamping out communism in America. The D.A.R. goes so far as to advocate that "Not an alien professor be allowed in our schools." Hearst would have public officials come to the support of the weak-minded college student who cannot withstand such subversive learning. The fight in Harvard University against the Teachers Oath Bill is an indication of educators estimate of the 100% Americanism ballyhoo now so prevalent. An interesting sidelight is that in Italy it was academic freedom which was last attacked with the advent of Fascism.

BEYOND THE THRESHOLD OF CHANGE

A jobless world now faces the graduate. "Regular" sources of information rarely tell the whole truth about today's dilemma. This new book does that, and advocates democratic control of whatever develops out of chaos. Fascism, and certain dangerous aspects of Marxism exposed as never before. New viewpoints on minority problems, birth control, redirected selfishness, a better possible future, and 21 proposed definite, concrete measures to that end. Realistic, fair handling of these vital problems by a Concord, N. H., author (I. F. Kent) who worked two years under the Soviets as an engineer.

Weekend Weather Forecast

Friday, October 11, 9 A. M.

Though the barometer is still relatively high in Durham this morning, it is falling slowly and skies are overcast throughout most of the country. A cold mass of polar air from northern Canada covers the interior portion of the country. As this mass moves slowly southeastward, it is replacing warmer, moist air from the Gulf and forcing it to rise. This has resulted in light snows and rains along a front from Hudson Bay southwestward to Texas. Somewhat warmer, and considerably more moist, air from the Pacific is moving eastward over the Rocky Mountains, but no precipitation had occurred in that region up to yesterday morning.

It will grow colder in Durham, and showers may fall, as the polar air arrives this evening or early tomorrow. Thereafter, it will slowly grow warmer, and the skies will clear. There is at present no indication of much rain over the week-end.

FRIDAY: Cloudy, and warmer, today. Probably showers by tonight. Gentle southerly winds.

SATURDAY: Clearing and somewhat colder in the morning. Fresh northerly winds, increasing. Possibly light frost at night.

SUNDAY: Probably generally fair with slowly rising temperature.

Chamberlin on Team

William H. Chamberlin of Durham has played in two Lafayette College games as varsity center this fall. He is one of the four Lafayette players having had two years previous experience that Coach G. Herbert McCracken had a nucleus for his team this year.

Lafayette scored a sensational victory over Muhlenberg College last Saturday, and is pointing now towards the Albright tilt this week-end, at Reading. Lafayette will also meet Colgate, Pennsylvania, Rutgers, Baltimore and Lehigh this season.

John Germ is interested in bacteriology. He's written Ohio State University for information relative to a course in that subject.

Varsity Harriers Open with Maine

9 Men Leave Tonight for Orono --- Wildcats Have Edge

New Hampshire's varsity Cross Country team travels to Orono on Saturday to open the season with the University of Maine.

Last year Maine won at Durham by a score of 41 to 18. However this year, New Hampshire seems to have the edge, despite an extra training week for Maine. This year Maine has Hunnewell and Corbett as veterans from last year, while New Hampshire has Dave Webster and Don Seavey.

All the New Hampshire harriers have had some running experience either on the cross country course or the cinder track. Saturday will mark the opening of Coach Paul Sweet's twelfth season at coaching at New Hampshire.

The squad of nine, with Coach Sweet and Joe Miller, the manager, will leave by bus Friday at eight o'clock. Those making the trip are: Dave Webster (acting captain), Don Seavey, Ed Shertok, Harold Ferrin, Karl Craigin Clayton Plummer, Donald Prince, and John McKeigue and George Quinn, alternates.

Community Group Meet

The Community Church University student group will meet next Sunday evening at the Community House.

Mr. Cramer will meet with the Juniors and Seniors in a course in "Christian Biography." Professor Babcock will lead a group in "New Testament Life and Times." Rev. Buschmeyer will meet with a group on "Bible Backgrounds and Old Testament Life and Times."

W.A.A. Elects Officers

At a meeting of the Women's Athletic Association held at the W.A.A. cabin at Mendum's pond last week, the following officers were elected: President, Dorothy Colman; Vice-President, Ruth Greenough; Secretary, Barbara Edgerly; Treasurer, Marjorie Carlisle.

Notice

Non-commuters, obtain your copy of The New Hampshire at the Registrar's Office at 4 P. M. Tuesdays and Fridays instead of Ballard Hall as previously announced.

The outlook for our varsity football team is much brighter, as this column is being banged out, than it was at this time last week. In fact, I think that I can safely say that New Hampshire will gain another of her altogether too few gridiron victories.

Sports commentators revel in trying to pick winners, whether they be baseball teams, football teams, or even lowly bangtails. The results usually cause a lot of grief for the unfortunate commentators, but, giving them the credit due them, they keep on trying. Having taken an experimental fling at predicting the margin of victory for Yale last week, and coming quite close, I am, optimistically, going to try to predict the result of tomorrow's game.

Maine's record is very poor to date. Two weeks ago she barely beat out Rhode Island State, winning by a margin of one point. Last week, a team from Holy Cross, with only two regulars in the line-up, beat her by a 47-0 score. Comparing this to New Hampshire's record, I think that we should win by a 27-7 score. For the benefit of those competing in the cigger contest, Holy Cross should beat Harvard by two touchdowns. You guess the score.

Due to a reorganization of the New Hampshire staff, yours truly would be very inconvenienced trying to write this column twice a week, so my partner in crime, Bill Hersey, is going to alternate with me in the composing of this masterpiece.

The varsity harriers also journey up into the wilds of Maine to meet the University of Maine at Orono. With three of last year's championship frosh team now on the varsity squad, the event should be in the well known satchel.

The Kitten cross-country men will receive their baptism of fire tomorrow in Durham when they tackle Concord High. No one knows how the runners are shaping up, so the result is an unknown quantity at present. We all hope that they will develop into a team comparable to last year's.

Mayor

"Baron" von Gritz refuses to discuss the campaign with such meager opposition, but in the next breath he uttered a sinister "Beware!", and hinted that within a week a startling announcement will be issued by him that will cause his competitors to tremble in their boots. What can it be? Several "Gritz for Mayor" clubs have been reported in Europe, and if they can find one of their members who is able to write, many votes are expected.

A.B.C., whose sinister and powerful influence has been felt before on campus, refuses to commit itself at present but states that it shall swing its entire vote to one of the candidates on election day. Watch for their choice.

Thomas Jokong Chang, of China, showed the way to the rest of University of Pennsylvania students last year. He took two degrees and led all his classes.

Upward of 18,000,000 people are playing basketball throughout the United States.

Frosh Football Team Prepares for Dartmouth

Several Injured Saturday Expected Back for Game

After opening the season with a setback from St. John's Prep, the freshman football candidates have begun to work in earnest in preparation for their game with the strong Dartmouth freshman team, October 19.

Several injuries were sustained in the rugged game last Saturday, but with more than a week left in which to prepare for Dartmouth, most of the cripples are expected to be in good shape. Gilgun, who started the game at quarterback, received a severe ankle sprain which may keep him out until after the next game.

"The St. John's game was beneficial in many ways," said Howard Hanley, freshman coach, "It presented an opportunity to get a line on many members of the large squad who heretofore had had no chance to display their capabilities under heavy competition." As a result of the showing made by several of the men in that game, the coaches are contemplating a number of changes in the line-up. Preble, a back from Portsmouth, and Horne, a back from Brewster academy, looked particularly capable and will undoubtedly see much service in future games. In the line, Cummings at center, Tinker at guard and Marshall at tackle, seemed to have a shade on the other linemen. However the battle for positions is still wide open and every man will have to fight to maintain any edge he may have.

Freshman Harriers Meet Concord High

Team an Unknown Quantity Because Tryouts Have Not Been Held

Despite a short training season, the New Hampshire Frosh harriers will open the season here Saturday in a meet with Concord High.

Due to undesirable conditions it was found unable to hold tryouts. Consequently, twelve men have been selected by their averages and from these ten will be picked to run. Nothing much can be predicted about the team, as there are no past records of the men. The race with Concord will be the first test and for most runners the first race that they have run.

Last year New Hampshire won a dual meet with Concord by a perfect score, taking all first five places.

A freshman Cross-Country team has taken part in all of the ten Freshman N.E.I.C.A.A. championship races held. They have won eight, tied for second once, and placed second once.

The twelve men selected to run are: George Allen, Art Bishop, Henry Cassidy, Herb Doolittle, Reinold Lahti, Rarce Mason, Karl Pease, Art Prescott, Lloyd Quimby, Walter Raleigh, Russ Sanborn and Robert Williams.

Delegates Will Attend Northfield Assembly

Two delegates from the U.N.H. organization of Christian Work, Miss Dora Handshumacher and Alexander Karanikas, are being sent to the Second Assembly for the New England Student Christian movement, which is to take place on October 18, 19 and 20 at East Northfield, Mass. Dr. T. Z. Coe, of China, is to be the leader of this convention. Miss Elizabeth Bonney will accompany the delegates.

Government Aids Students

Not contenting itself with aiding undergraduate students in financial need, the federal government is now supplying millions to make it possible for postgrads to keep on their work for higher degrees.

Graduate students in their first years of study for advanced degrees may earn from 15 dollars a month up to 30 dollars. The quota for each school is 20 percent of those awarded masters degrees and 75 percent of those awarded doctor's degrees in 1934-35.

Every time that you write, your Train of Thought flashes along rails more delicate than gossamer. And every petty annoyance—every distraction—caused by a pen that skips and runs dry in study periods, classes, or exams, obstructs the track and derails the train.

That's why thousands of students are replacing their present pens with this revolutionary new Parker Vacumatic with visible ink supply and 102% more of it.

By holding this miracle writer to the light, they can see the ink level—see days ahead if it's running low. It is laminated—built up ring upon ring of shimmering Pearl and Jet—smart, velvet-like, wholly exclusive.

It contains no rubber sac found in sac-type pens—no squirt-gun piston pump like other sacless pens—nothing to render it useless later on. That's why it is guaranteed mechanically perfect. Go to any good store selling pens and try it yourself. The Parker Pen Company, Janesville, Wis.

University Students Attend Judging Contest

Kenneth Morrill and a judging team left last Monday for the National Inter-collegiate Dairy Cattle judging contest at St. Louis, Mo., to be held Monday, October 14, 1935. This contest is held in connection with the National Dairy Show by the generosity of Charles Harvey Hood, '81.

Leonard Grey, Walter Knight, and Lester Stevens are the members of the judging team which will compete against more than twenty-five teams sent from other colleges. They plan to drive, going by the way of Buffalo and Detroit. At East Lansing, Mich. they will stop Saturday to do some practice judging at Michigan State college.

Fine Arts Department Holds First Meeting

The Fine Arts department of the Woman's Club of Durham held their first meeting of the year, a guest night program, on Thursday evening, October 3, at the home of Mrs. Edward Rasmussen on Madbury road.

Mrs. William Hartwell, chairman, presided at a brief session at which announcement was made that the department would continue a study of plays during the coming year.

The program for the evening, directed by Mrs. L. A. Dougherty, was a play, "Meddlin," in which Mrs. Christobel Allen, Mrs. George McGregor, Mrs. Earl Robinson, and Mrs. Gertrude Smith took part. Preceding the play, an impromptu sketch depicting the trials of a stage manager added much to the evening. Tea was served by the hostess.

Results of the try-outs for "The Whiteheaded Boy," fall-term production of Mask and Dagger, will be announced in the next issue of The New Hampshire.
